Notes

- 1 Social Security numbers are accessible only to Troop Committee Chair, Secretary and Treasurer.
- 2 Please be candid and complete in all areas. It is particularly important that the Troop leadership know emotional issues that may result from ADD, ADHD, divorce or separations. This information is divulged to adult leaders only as necessary, but we need it to be sure we react properly in the event of a problem. It will not be used to stigmatize your child in any way.
- 3 If the parents are not living together, please use the "Other Remarks or Instructions" section to indicate which parent the Scout normally lives with, as well as the address of the other parent. If there are any special mailing requirements arising from the separate residences, please indicate them there as well.
- 4 If both parents share custody, please indicate "yes" for both. The Troop may elect to release the Scout only to a parent who has legal custody unless otherwise provided in the "Other Remarks or Instructions" section. In the case of married parents living together, both parents automatically have joint custody.
- 5 We will always send emails to the Scout's personal email address if he has one. We will also send emails to one or both parental email addresses as indicated. We must always have at least one email address to which we may send email messages.
- 6 It is important to provide (and identify) all useful phone numbers for both routine and emergency contacts including alternate work and unlisted home numbers, pager numbers, voice mail numbers, and cellular telephone numbers. Please indicate any numbers that are not to be used except in case of an emergency. Only the Scout's numbers will be given to other Scouts; the remaining numbers are for adult leader use only.
- 7 If brothers or sisters are also in Scouting outside of T97, please indicate where and their rank.
